RECEIVER'S FIRST DISTRIBUTION REPORT

David A. Castleman (the "Receiver"), as Receiver pursuant to the Consent Preliminary Injunction (the "Consent Order"), entered by this Court in this action on June 15, 2022 [Dkt. 56], files this First Distribution Report (the "Report"), filed in conjunction with the Second Quarter 2026 Status Report, to apprise the Court of the status of the initial distribution to investors announced in January 2025 [Dkt. 434] and completed in the Second Quarter 2026.

I. INTRODUCTION

Following approval of the Receiver's plan of distribution ("Plan") in January 2025 [Dkt. 431], the Receiver announced an Initial Distribution [Dkt. 434] (the "Initial Distribution") to investors in accordance with the Plan's terms and rising tide structure, with a total budget of $98.8 to $101.8 million pending resolution of remaining disputed claims. Under the terms of the Initial Distribution, EminiFX investors in Class 3 received 45% of their verified contributions into EminiFX, less any pre-receivership withdrawals. The percentage distribution to Class 3 investors my increase in the future, resulting in one or more additional distributions. Those investors in Class 3A received 55% of their verified contributions into EminiFX, less any pre-receivership withdrawals. This will be the one and only distribution to Class 3A investors. Beginning in 2025 and continuing through the first half of 2026, the Initial Distribution was made to investors in waves as investors became eligible (e.g., any claim disputes were resolved) and investors provided the necessary information to complete the distribution payment.

After reporting preliminary data in the First Quarter 2026 Status Report [Dkt. 581, at 6], the Receiver worked with the receivership's financial advisers at J.S. Held LLC ("JS Held") and its claims administrator Stretto, Inc. ("Stretto") to conduct an internal financial review and final accounting of the Initial Distribution.[1] After all claims were finalized, including one settlement that included a waiver of payment, the total possible distribution is $101,578,371 to 32,026 eligible investors.[2] Just over 88% of eligible investors received a distribution payment, accounting for almost 97% of the total possible distribution amount. In general, investors with higher distributions were more likely to participate in the distribution process; the average successful distribution amount was approximately $3,500, while the average unsuccessful distribution amount was approximately $900. As noted in prior reports, investors with unsuccessful distributions will be eligible for catch up payments in the next round.

II. DISTRIBUTION PROCESS AND RESULTS

At the time the Plan was approved, the vast majority—but not all—of the investor claims had been finalized. To ensure that resolution of final claims did not delay distributions to all investors, the Receiver and his team implemented a dual track process in which investors with finalized claims were able to receive distributions while the disputed claims process was able to proceed to final resolution. On October 3, 2025, the Receiver filed the Final Claims Report [Dkt. 532], which contained the final register of all verified contributions and withdrawals.

[1] An additional $249,750 (45% of the claim) was paid to the remaining Class 4 general unsecured claimant in accordance with the Plan and a previously reached settlement. Pursuant to the settlement, no additional distributions will be made on account of that claim.

[2] Investors eligible to receive a distribution are those investors who had withdrew from EminiFX when it was operational less than 45% of the amounts that they had contributed to EminiFX (55% for Class 3A)–i.e., they were below the applicable rising tide threshold.

Distributions were completed over several waves throughout 2025. To receive a distribution payment, investors were given various deadlines to provide the receivership with payment information using the investor's individual page on the User Portal maintained by Stretto. Investors were given the choice of receiving several electronic payment options—ACH (popular for larger payments), Zelle (popular for smaller payments), Paypal and Venmo—or a check to United States mailing address. A separate option was provided for Canadian investors. One special situation was paid by wire,[3] and another was paid into an escrow account maintained by the Receiver for an account where the New York Attorney General (the "NYAG") claimed a right to the funds as well. The NYAG and the applicable claimant came to a resolution, and the funds were wired by the Receiver as directed per that agreement. The following is the breakdown of the various payment methods, including those payments that were made by check as a default option for non-responding investors (described below):

Method	Number	Total Amount	Average Amount
ACH	8,424	$52,924,456	$6,283
Zelle	10,386	$28,028,903	$2,699
Paypal	1,063	$1,667,507	$1,569
Venmo	231	$429,167	$1,858
Checks	7,461	$13,156,195	$1,763
Interac	626	$1,256,734	$2,008
Wire	1	$11,321	$11,321
Escrow	1	$703,619	$703,619
Total	28,193	$98,177,902	$3,482

Following the deadline to submit payment information, the User Portal was taken offline so that all payment information could be processed by Stretto. At the Receiver's direction, JS

[3] As part of a second distribution, the Receiver and his team are evaluating whether additional special situations will be permitted for Rollover distributions, in order to maximize the percentage of investors paid.

Held and Stretto then performed additional checks of the various payment files and data to ensure that the right amounts were being sent to the right investors. Once those checks were complete, Stretto processed the various payments, which included transferring funds to the correct banks or payment platforms that then processed those funds out to the investors. The Receiver would sign off and approve the movement of funds between accounts as necessary.

After the final cutoff on October 31, 2025, the Receiver processed the final payments for 2025. However, thousands of investors still had not provided payment information, a trend that was especially noticeable for Class 3A investors where just under half provided payment information, allowing them to receive a distribution. While the Receiver would have preferred to make payments based on an affirmative choice by the investor on the preferred payment method, the Receiver also wanted to maximize the number of eligible investors receiving payment. To that end, at the end of 2025, Stretto and the Receiver, where possible, mailed checks to the last known address of investors that had not yet received an initial distribution payment.[4] Several thousand checks were cashed and payments were completed in this way, which increased the percentages of Class 3 investors receiving payments from 82% to over 92%, and to Class 3A investors from just under half to around three quarters.

For those investors who did not provide payment information and could not be mailed a check or did not cash their mailed checks, their distributions will be rolled over to the next distribution. The Receiver anticipates making the next distribution once the potential tax liabilities have been resolved, either by passage of time by which the Internal Revenue Service must audit the filed returns (the current trajectory as of this report) or otherwise. The Receiver anticipates filing a subsequent motion to release the tax reserves and confirm abandonment procedures for investors who still cannot be paid in the anticipated Second Distribution, but for now those investors are classified as "Rollover." In addition, there are 822 investors who have Class 3 claims but received pre-receivership withdrawals in excess of the 45% rising tide threshold—some of those investors will become eligible if the rising tide is increased in a Second Distribution.

	No. of Payments	Total Amount	Average Amount

Attached as Exhibit 1 hereto is a Distribution Payment Schedule, containing (i) the Claim ID of the investor (anonymized and located on each investor's User Portal), (ii) the deposits attributed to that investor, (iii) the withdrawals attributed to that investor, (iv) the approved rising tide distribution, and (v) the payment method, which contains the status "Rollover" for those investors who were not paid and whose payments are rolled over to the Second Distribution.

III. DOUBLE DISTRIBUTION TO 19 CANADIAN INVESTORS

As part of the reconciliation process, the Receiver and his team discovered that 19 Canadian investors had been paid their distributions twice. In general, Canadian users were paid distributions using the Interac method, which Digital Disbursements (the entity processing digital payments under Stretto's direction) reported back as either succeeding or failing. In an effort to maximize the investors receiving distributions, the Receiver mailed checks to those investors whose Interac distributions had been marked as failed.

As a result of the internal review conducted, the Receiver's team discovered that, for 19 of those investors who received checks, Digital Disbursements was later able to pay their distributions via Interac, and switched the status from failed to success. As a result, those 19 users were paid twice, for a total cost of $18,199:

User ID	Double Payment
16372	$3,962
24718	$1,795
26928	$276
31620	$280
34089	$310
34384	$447
36306	$469
36450	$278
38447	$2,617
40320	$878
41704	$1,834
46570	$1,066
47821	$485
48133	$1,150
55014	$1,208
58210	$457
59031	$166
60539	$273
69483	$248
Total	$18,199

With respect to the investors, the Receiver is treating the double payments to these investors as a premature second distribution, and given the relatively modest amounts, does not intend to claw back those payments. When requesting authority for a second distribution, the Receiver intends to address this issue further with the Court and propose procedures to account for the premature second distribution.

With respect to the estate, the total additional payments have been recorded as an additional administrative expense in the Second Quarter 2026. Digital Disbursements and Stretto have committed to the Receiver that the estate will not bear the ultimate cost of this administrative error, and corrective action will be reflected in subsequent reports.

IV. FINANCIAL REVIEW SOURCES AND METHODS

As the Initial Distribution closed, the Receiver worked with his teams as JS Held and Stretto to perform a final financial review of the Initial Distribution using the distribution payment files and the bank statements of the receivership. To accomplish this, JS Held continued its review and reconciliation of payment activity reflected in the bank statement records provided by Stretto and the Receiver. The relevant bank statements were obtained and uploaded into the forensic accounting tool Valid8 Financial. Valid8 then converted the data into structured transaction-level data to support a detailed forensic accounting analysis.

Using the structured data, J.S. Held identified and categorized payments by method, including ACH, checks, escrow, Interac, PayPal, Venmo, wire transfers, and Zelle. Where necessary, transaction descriptions and supporting details were parsed to determine the appropriate payment category and to assess whether the transaction could be associated with a specific user based on the available records.

For ACH, Venmo, PayPal, and Interac payments, the bank statements generally reflected lump-sum disbursements to third-party payment providers rather than individual payments to investors. Because the bank statement records did not, by themselves, identify the ultimate investor-level recipients for these payment methods, JS Held worked with Stretto to identify which bank statement transactions corresponded to each third-party provider.

Other payment methods were more directly traceable from the bank statements. Escrow and wire payments each consisted of a single transaction, which allowed the amounts to be identified and allocated to the applicable investors directly from the bank statement activity. Zelle payments included recipient names within the transaction descriptions. These transactions were matched to users by cross-referencing the payment amounts with the recipient names shown in the bank statement details. Check payments were matched to users based on check number and amount. Where discrepancies were identified in either the check number or the amount, JS Held performed a manual review of the underlying check image or support. By reviewing the payee name and payment amount, JS Held was able to identify the corresponding investor.

JS Held then compared the aggregate data from the various bank statements and other structured account data to the distribution data. Initially, some methods showed a zero or de minimis difference, while others showed a more substantial difference. JS Held and Stretto analyzed those methods with substantial differences to determine the sources of the discrepancies, and were able to resolve all statistically significant differences to ensure the accuracy of the data in this Report.

JS Held further analyzed the Receiver's ledgers attached to the status reports alongside the distribution data. The ledger accompanying the Second Quarter 2026 Status Report will reflect minor adjustments made after the review set forth above, generally arising from payments that had been sent to the payment processor but were ultimately returned as undeliverable in the following quarter, as well as other minor adjustments now that the Initial Distribution is complete. Corresponding minor adjustments will be made to the Standardized Fund Accounting Reports (SFARs) attached to the Second Quarter 2026 fee application.

As a result of the foregoing analysis, all such discrepancies have been resolved, and the data in this Report, the Second Quarter 2026 Status Report, and the Second Quarter 2026 SFAR all reflect the same updated and reviewed financial data.

V. SECOND DISTRIBUTION

The Receiver is continuing to hold in reserve over $50 million primarily to satisfy reasonable worst-case tax liabilities, exacerbated by the inapplicability of 11 U.S.C. § 505(b) to federal equity receivers, who are still bound by the Federal Priority Statute, 31 U.S.C. § 3713 [cf. Dkts. 434, 532-1 (explaining same)]. The Receiver continues to consult with the receivership's tax professionals on when it will be possible to release the tax reserves, and will make a motion with the Court at the appropriate time. To the extent that any or all of the reserves can be released, the Receiver anticipates leveraging as much of the work from the Initial Distribution as possible to make a Second Distribution as efficient as possible.
